A Holistic Approach to Your Security

STRATEGIC ALLIANCE FORMED

The strategic alliance between Matrix Integration and Infotex provides the power of two experts who collectively partner to deliver solutions to address end to end security needs – all while preserving the integrity of separating management and auditing duties.

While Matrix Integration's expertise lies in helping banks design, implement and manage enterprise-class information technology and security infrastructure, Infotex excels in helping banks manage technology risk by auditing and monitoring their technology, systems and processes. The two companies together offer a holistic approach to security helping the banking industry defend against ever-evolving threats.

"Matrix Integration is the opposite side of the security coin from Infotex...they bring the implementation and management, whereas we bring the audit and compliance", said Dan Hadaway, President of Infotex.

"I'm excited about partnering with Infotex to help our customers address their audit, compliance and risk mitigation needs", said Nathan Stallings, President of Matrix Integration.
